

MULTI-ANGLE-BENCH

PRODUCT HIGHLIGHTS:

The Legion LC-MAB Multi-Angle Bench with contoured, lower lumbar support is the most comfortable, supportive bench on the market today. Seriously!

The Legion MAB bench has eight back pad positions allowing this highly adjustable bench to be used as a flat bench press, incline bench press, and military bench press in full upright position for shoulder presses. Independently adjustable seat pad with three positions. There is even a decline position, making it one of the most versatile benches available anywhere.

Additional width and contoured padding in the lumbar section of the back pad provides incredible comfort and support of the lower back during use. Use by itself or grab the built-in handle on the front frame support and roll in inside a power cage, half rack, or smith machine for performing barbell workouts.

Additional Features:

- Contoured lumbar design provides incredible lower back support
