

SQUAT PRESS

PLS-0800

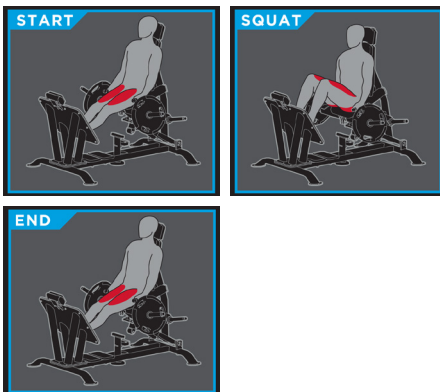

Engineered for strength and stability, the Palladium Series Plate Loaded PLS-0800 Squat Press features a low-profile design for easy access, a comfortable seat position, and a single pivot mechanism that directs force through the hips rather than the lower back and shoulders. An oversized, non-skid foot platform supports a variety of stances, while dual stops ensure adaptability for a wide range of users.

FEATURES

- Unique single pivot design allows for maximum hip extension with no spinal compression
- Low-profile and easy entry/exit design features oversized foot platform with non-skid surface for exercise variation
- Dual-position stops accommodate a wide range of users

USER AMENITIES

- Instruction Placard illustrates proper START and END positions
